

Rochester Road Biography

Out of the eclectic music scene of Los Angeles comes a brand of music that transcends both time and genre. Rochester Road was born on the beaches of L.A., but the roots of "the road" actually stretch from New York to Chicago and all the way to Hawaii. This five-man rock outfit features electric and acoustic guitars, keys, drums, bass, and some soulful singing. Their sound has been compared to everything from The Grateful Dead to The Red Hot Chili Peppers to The Doors. While they have the mainstream appeal of some modern rock bands, their improvisational style gives them the appeal and spontaneity that fans of jazz and jam music expect from a live show. Rochester Road and their magic school bus are set to embark on a cross-country tour this fall – so get onboard and join the fun!
